A Word to Dry Voters

Editor Banner:

Let every dry voter get out to the polls a vote and see that none stay at home.

Belding is a much better place to live in than when we had saloons. I was nightwatchman at the basket factory when we had the saloon several years ago, and I saw at that time much drinking by both men and women. I sometimes helped deliver coal on the coal wagon and the driver wanted me to drive when we went by a saloon. There is nothing of this kind going on in Belding today.

Once where I lived we had a neighbor who would get drunk, we persuaded him to join the church and he quit drinking for a long time. Well do I remember when he was baptized in the mill pond. One day he went to town and some of his old chums got him to drinking again in one of the saloons, and the result was that a few days later he shot himself in the presence of his family. If there hadn't been any saloons this would not have happened. Frank Taylor.

DON'T BE MISLED

The Prohibition question is a social, moral and economic question.

It has no place in party politics.

The sponsors of the dry movement do not want it connected up with the personal candidacy of any individual.

Mr. Luren D. Dickinson refused to be a candidate for Governor on this ground.

Albert E. Sleeper, the Republican candidate for Governor, and Republican candidates for state and county offices, all pledge themselves to enforce the laws and make MICHIGAN DRY if the Prohibition amendment carries.

If it is defeated Albert E. Sleeper will insist on a strict enforcement of the present liquor laws or those which may be passed by the legislature.

Vote for Albert E. Sleeper for Governor, Luren D. Dickinson for Lieutenant Governor, Alex J. Groesbeck for Attorney General, Coleman C. Vaughan for Secretary of State, Samuel Odell for State Treasurer, O. B. Fuller for Auditor General, Grant Fellows for Justice of the Supreme Court, and Charles E. Townsend for United States Senator.
